

Hiking Tour on the Great Wall

Departure: Daily (Suitable Time: from June to Oct.)

This is a "Private Tour Group", it means you have your private car (or bus) and driver, sightseeing with your private local English speaking tour guide, no stranger tourists in the group.

Hiking on the Great Wall for nine days is design for the Great wall lover. Built to ward off enemies in ancient times, today the Great Wall brings together people from all corners of the world. Hiking along the Great Wall, is substantially different than simply making the usual short visit. You will not only accept a challenge physically, but also obtain a deeper understanding and appreciation of Chinese history and culture, as well as man's creative power. In the tour, we will start from the Old Dragon Head in Hebei province, the eastern starting point of the Ten-thousand-li Great Wall, to Huangyaguan Pass in Tianjin, and trek on to Simatai, Jinshanling and Gubeikou in Beijing. The sections of the Wall you will visit are typical in architecture, scenery, wildness, and military importance. The total length we will trek in the trip is about 80km. Some part of the wall is too broken to walk, please prepared to experience some hardship on the way. You have the chance to visit and explore beautiful sections of the Great Wall that most people will never see.

Tips for trekking on Great Wall:

- Walk slowly in the first hours to have your body to get used to the trekking. Never run or walk fast.
- Keep distance while walking up the steep broken wall to avoid the possible rolling down stone. Never follow each other one by one in a line closely, climb or walk down this part side by side with distant.
- Keep distance from any edge of the wall and the open on the wall, because part of the wall is loose and broken.
- While pass the bridge, don't run, jump, shake and push.
- Don't lean against the wall to rest, the stone on the wall is loosed.
- It is really hot to walk on the wall under the Sun. Drink enough water to keep yourselves from dehydration and siriasis.
- Please take care of everything on and around the wall. Leave nothing except your foot prints, and take nothing except photograph and garbage.
- Though our leader have talkers with them on the way, but limited coverage in the area. Some parts of the wall are really rough, so behave as a team, and help each other on the road. This trip is to "smell the fresh air", rather than a competition.
- Many parts of the wall are broken and loose, so sensible footwear is essential.
- As most of this tour is in really wild outdoor, we reserve the right to alternate the itinerary for the second best in case of any unforeseen event or government regulations. The participants are expected to take the extra payment if there is any.
